1 John 4: 7 - 12

God's Love and Ours

7 Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God. Everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. 8 Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love. 9 This is how God showed his love among us: He sent his one and only Son into the world that we might live through him. 10 This is love: not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins. 11 Dear friends, since God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. 12 No one has ever seen God; but if we love one another, God lives in us and his love is made complete in us.

1 John 4: 13 - 18

13 This is how we know that we live in him and he in us: He has given us of his Spirit. 14 And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. 15 If anyone acknowledges that Jesus is the Son of God, God lives in them and they in God. 16 And so we know and rely on the love God has for us.

God is love. Whoever lives in love lives in God, and God in them. 17 This is how love is made complete among us so that we will have confidence on the day of judgment: In this world we are like Jesus. 18 There is no fear in love. But perfect love drives out fear, because fear has to do with punishment. The one who fears is not made perfect in love.

I am working on a sermon and was wondering if you could answer either of these questions.

How have other Christians shown you love when you needed it most?

How do you respond when Christians love you when you feel unloveable.

Thanks FB Family.

I have had a tough six months. There have been people at church who have noticed a change in my behaviors and have talked to me totally unsolicited. I have appreciated their concern and prayers.

As a person who is known to care for others....it is difficult for me to share my hurts and deep feelings....I hide it well and people usually don't ask....for a few to see through my façade...it is welcomed and feel loved and I feel of value when it is it totally unexpected

Often times the Spirit will be at work and a brother in Christ will send me an encouraging text or ask me to hang out and encourage me there at the perfect time. This always brings me to a moment of humility as I felt like I was about to fall apart and even when I'm not looking up towards God for help, He is faithful in sustaining me. This humility will Spark a heart of worship. God is good 👍👍

The silent hug is probably my favorite. Sometimes someone will take my hand or put their arm accross my shoulders. It's not always words though sometimes it is, mostly it's just being inclusive. My response is appreciation and humility - I'm always humbled by the depth of the caring. Really, it's amazement because it's nothing I've earned.

Honestly sometimes it's just being there. Knowing that someone still cared enough to be with me and to love me. They've provided food, hugs, and prayers. You can tell when someone genuinely cares about you, or when someone just is pretending to care. I find that people that are motivated by the love of Jesus are the most genuine people I know.

The Christian community is like no other, it doesn't matter that we go to different churches or live in different states. In my experience I've seen Christ's love lived out in others. They made that choice to give, to be inconvenienced, even to do things that people may never know, all to obey Christ and follow His example.

Encouragement like none other.

Direct prayer requests. <---
Asking "how can I pray for you?" Instead of just the blanket..."I'll pray for you".

BEING the hands and feet of Jesus. Doing and not just saying you'll pray. PRAYER is powerful but Jesus does say GO! And DO!

A sister checking up on me in a morning text, sending me a link to a song, reminding me of Whose I am.

The kids from ESC sending us handmade cards with scripture verses when Tom was finishing his time here on earth. I'll never forget them.

How have other Christians shown you love when you needed it most?

I am overwhelmed with the power of God. Every time I've felt weak or defeated, I will get a message completely out of the blue from a friend and I honestly believe it's God. It happens to consistently and too accurately to be a coincidence.

How do you respond when Christians love you when you feel unloveable.

Most of the time I get very emotional. I'm constantly waiting for people to reveal to me that their love is conditional, so when they decide to stay and be present with me, I am overwhelmed with joy.
