

The image features a sunset over a body of water, with the sun low on the horizon and its light reflecting on the water's surface. The scene is divided into vertical panels by thin black lines. The word "ECCLESIASTES" is written in large, white, serif capital letters across the center of the image, with a slightly distressed or textured appearance. The background transitions from a deep purple on the left to a bright orange on the right.

ECCLESIASTES

“Look,” says the teacher, “this is what I’ve discovered: Adding one thing to another to discover the scheme of things – while I was still searching, but not finding...This only have I found: God created man upright, but they have gone in search of many schemes.”

Ecclesiastes 7:27-29

MR. YU

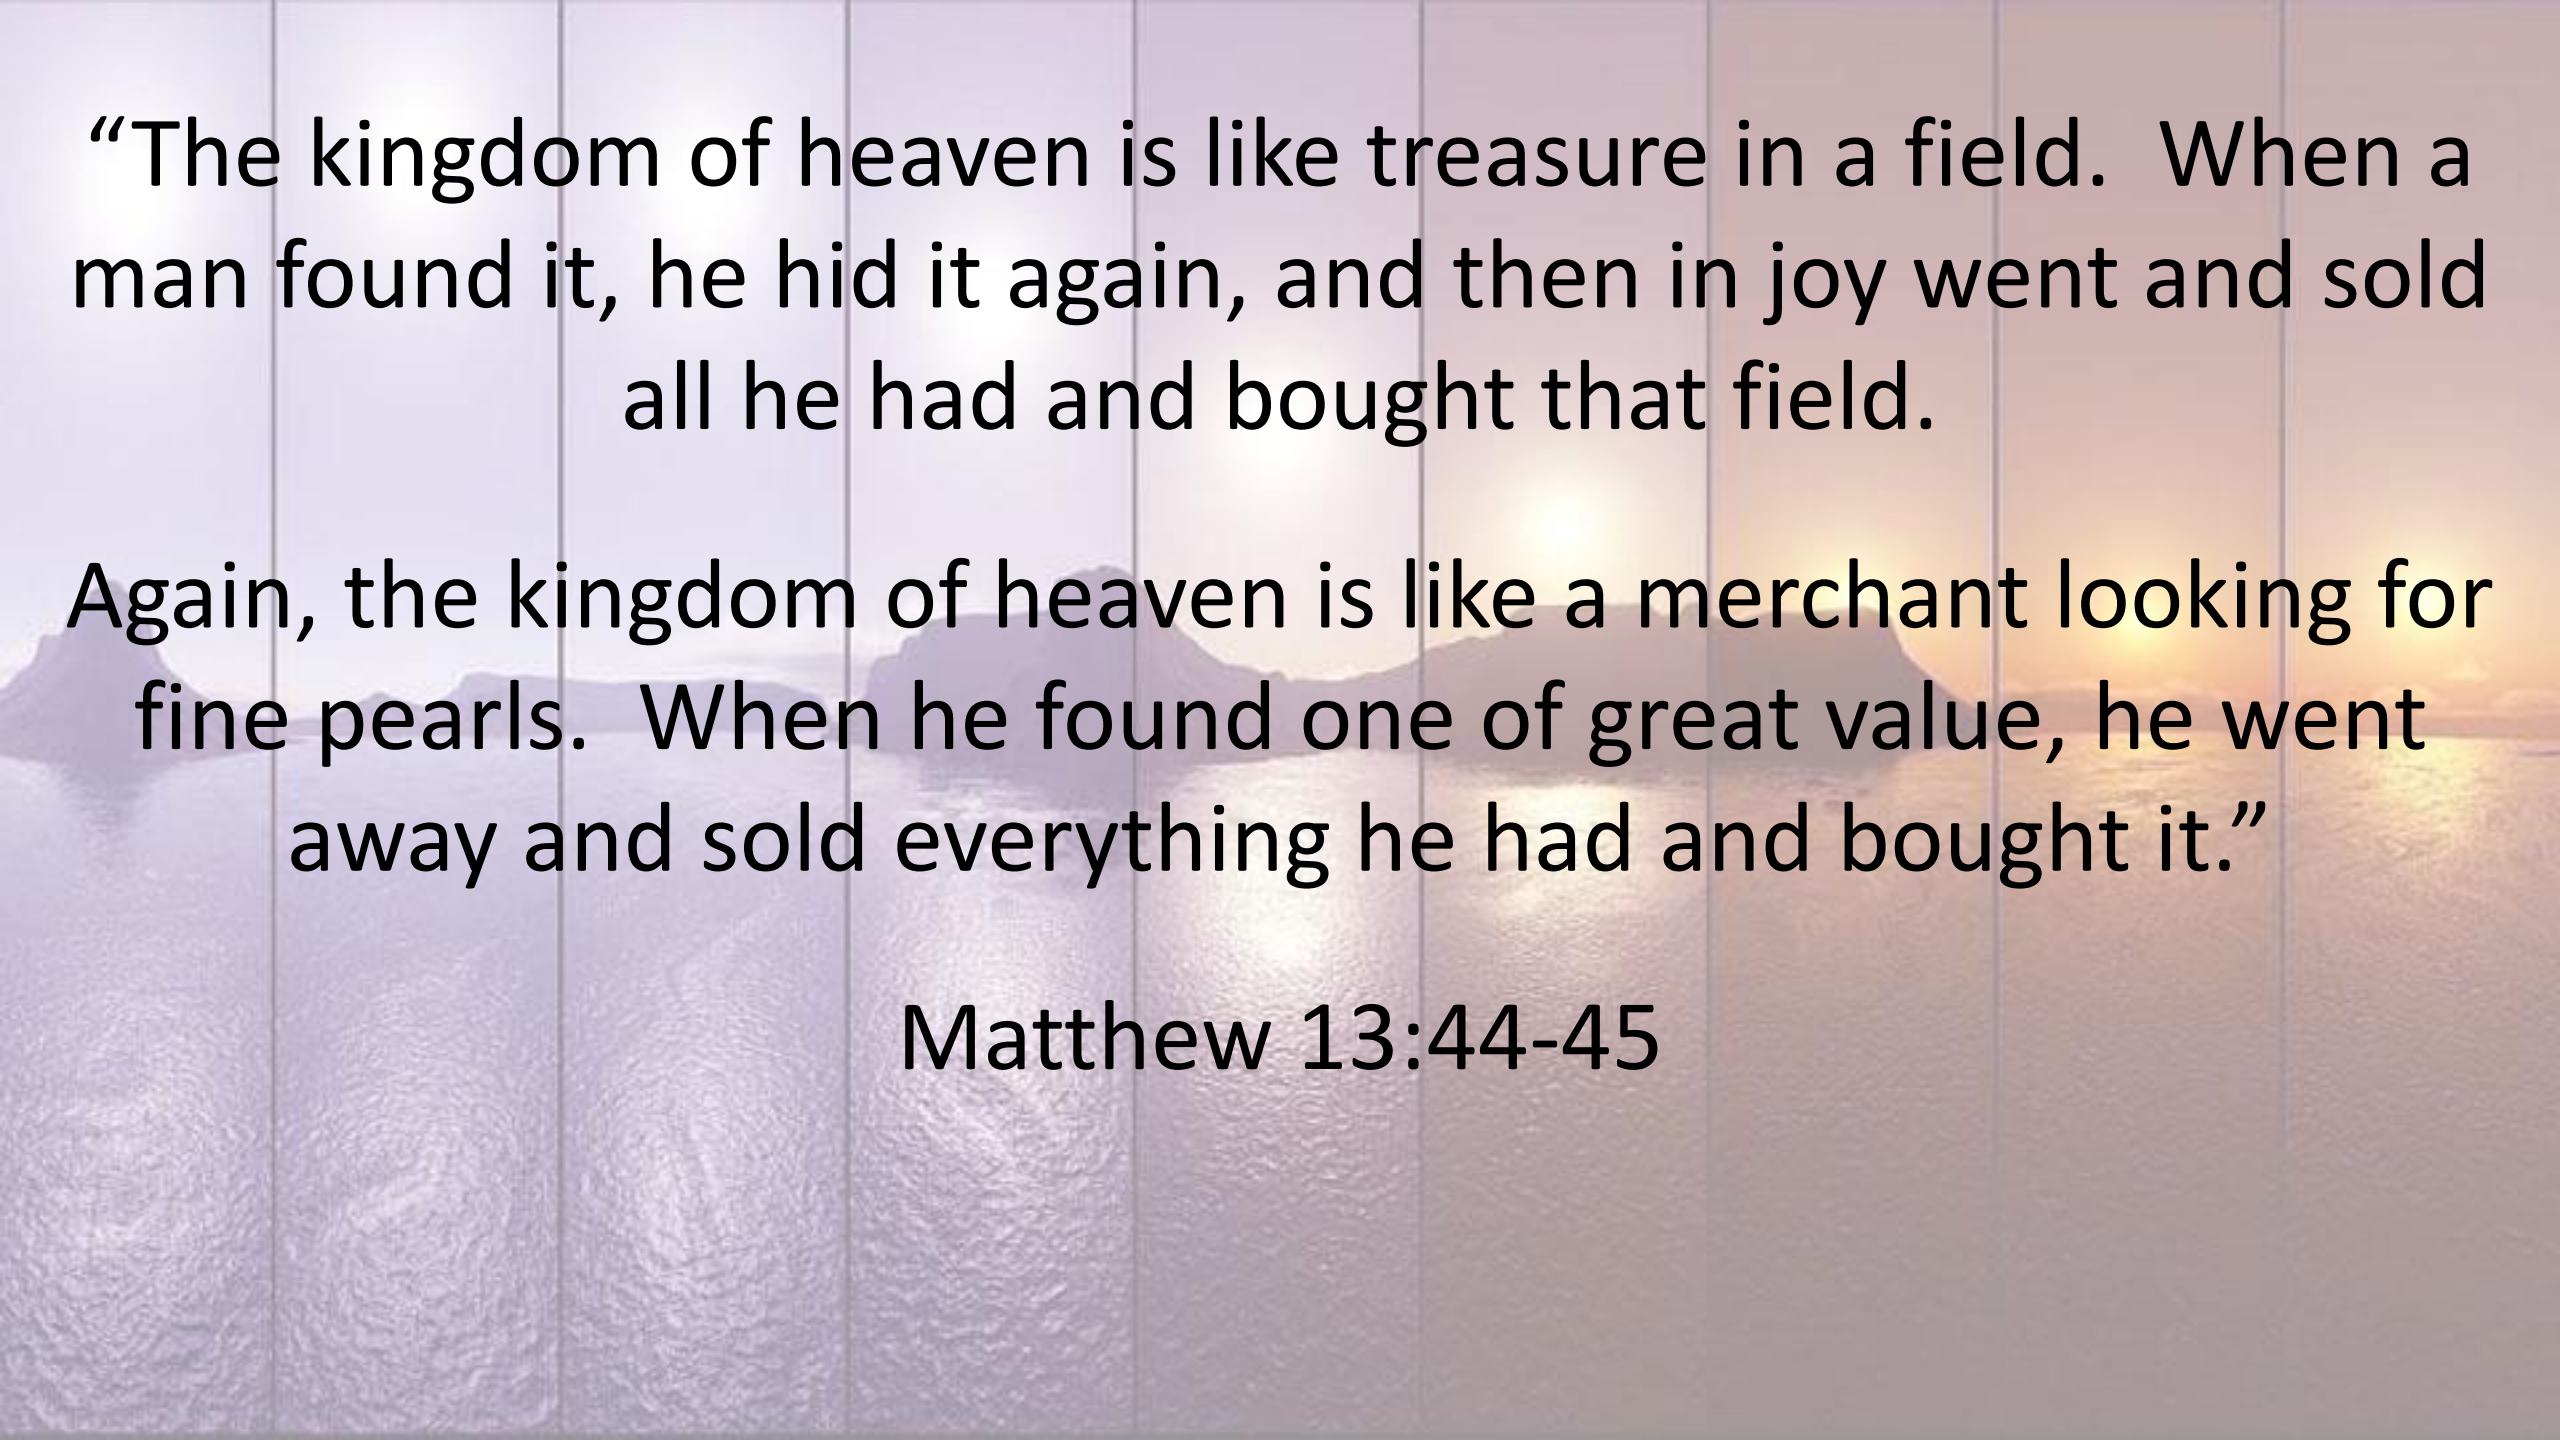

Pittsburgh Poison Center, The University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. All rights reserved.

MR. YUK

Pittsburgh Poison Center, The University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. All rights reserved.

A serene sunset scene with a bright sun low on the horizon, casting a golden glow over a calm body of water. In the distance, silhouetted mountains rise against the sky. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and contemplative.

“The kingdom of heaven is like treasure in a field. When a man found it, he hid it again, and then in joy went and sold all he had and bought that field.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant looking for fine pearls. When he found one of great value, he went away and sold everything he had and bought it.”

Matthew 13:44-45

The image features a sunset over a body of water, with the sun low on the horizon and its light reflecting on the water's surface. The sky transitions from a deep purple on the left to a bright orange on the right. In the background, there are dark, silhouetted mountains or hills. The word "ECCLESIASTES" is written across the center in a large, white, serif font. The text is slightly transparent, allowing the background image to be seen through it. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

ECCLESIASTES